LIBERTY BOND SALE CLOSES TOMORROW AT NOON -- BUY QUICK

AMERICA PAYS TRIBUTE TO FLAG

LIBERTY LOAN WILL BE SUBSCRIBED BY TOMORROW AT NOON

When Lists Close Full Amount Will Have Been Taken

TREASURY OFFICIALS ARE CONFIDENT

Heavy Over-Subscription Hoped For as Warning to Kaiser

(International News Service.)

Washington, June 14.—Subscriptions to the Liberty Loan reported to the treasury department totalled $1,843,000,000 at 1 o'clock this afternoon, it was announced by Secretary McAdoo. Officials are more confident than ever that the total will exceed $2,000,000,000.

(International News Service.)

Washington, June 14.—The last day of the Liberty Loan found officials here confident that the $2,000,000,000 will be over-subscribed.

Returns from hundreds of cities and towns are yet to be received and with these figures in hand, together with the constantly increasing totals for the cities which already have reported, officials today are practically certain that the issue will be met and possibly a heavy over-subscription will be shown.

Officials today were busy with arrangements for the closing of the books of the 12 federal reserve banks.

TWIN CITIES WANT TO PASS $100,000 ON LIBERTY LOAN

LAST WEEK SUBSCRIPTIONS WERE JUST $50,000, BUT HARD WORK HAS BEEN DONE SINCE.

The subscription lists to the Liberty Loan will close at noon tomorrow.

Local bankers and citizens were preparing this afternoon for the final drive on the stocking savings account and the bank book in a last effort to bring the subscription of this section up to the allotted quota.

Just what the Twin Cities will go for the loan by noon tomorrow was a mystery today, but it was believed that the $100,000 mark will be easily surpassed. Last week the subscriptions were barely over $50,000, but much work has been done since then and the establishment of Liberty Loan savings clubs by several banks has greatly aided in reaching a higher total.

The bells and whistles of the city will advertise the loan at 9 o'clock tonight for the last time. It is urged that more bells and whistles take part in the demonstration tonight than on the three previous nights. It is feared that every whistle and bell in the Twin Cities be rung, including the fire whistles and locomotive whistles.

London, June 14.—Ex-King Constantine of Greece, accompanied by his former queen and their old son, have left Athens to go on board a British warship, according to an Athens dispatch.

Every Member of Decatur Postoffice Buys Liberty Bond

Every man in the employ of the government at the Decatur postoffice with the exception of the janitor has bought a Liberty Loan bond, Postmaster W. E. Crawford announced this morning.

Postmaster Crawford is using his best persuasive powers on the janitor and hopes by tonight to have him enrolled for a bond. The office has taken ten bonds which were bought by the postmaster, assistant postmaster and other bonded employees. In the list of purchasers is Skeggs Crawford, young son of the postmaster, who is exceedingly proud of the 100 per cent bond record held by his daddy's office.

BATTLESHIP FOR RECRUITING STATION

A miniature battleship, if 250 feet can be classed as miniature, has been built in Union square, New York city, for a recruiting station. It is rigged up as completely as possible, so that each department of a dreadnaught is shown. The photograph was taken during the construction of the ship.

BIG SUGAR PLANT WRECKED; LOSS OF LIFE LOOKS LARGE

SEARCHERS AMONG THE RUINS EXPECT TO FIND HALF HUNDRED BODIES.

(International News Service.)
New York, June 14.—Searchers among the ruins of the American Sugar Refinery Company plant in Williamsburg after an explosion and fire had wrecked the big 11-story structure along the waterfront, had discovered only one body early today. It is feared many more lost their lives when machinery on the fourth floor crashed through the other floors to the basement in which 500 men were at work.

At least 50 were injured, according to the estimate of Coroner Wagner. They were rushed to hospitals. Thirty-four are missing and the property loss is estimated at about $1,000,000.

Wow! Thermometer Hits Top of Tube With 97 Registered

Wednesday's weather busted, and smashed and otherwise did violence to the records of the local government weather bureau.

According to the bureau the thermometer pushed its way up to the 97 mark—which is some hot—and threatened to blow off the top of the tube. The extreme heat established a June record in the Twin Cities that is expected to stand for many years to come. The heat was very marked on the streets of Albany and Decatur, as 97 degrees is an altitude not frequently reached by the salubrious North Alabama climate.

STRIKES AND RIOTS ARE REPORTED AT ZARATE.

(International News Service.)
Buenos Aires, June 14.—Strike riots broke out today at Zarate in which a number of soldiers and striking workmen were shot.

Advices from Zarate said that a serious situation existed and that practically all of the stores were being closed and barricaded. The city is 50 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

PRESIDENT EXPOSES GERMAN PROPOSALS FOR PEACE IN GREAT FLAG DAY SPEECH

SAYS GERMAN POWER WILL BE BROKEN WHENEVER MILITARY MASTERS OF THE EMPIRE ARE FORCED BACK AN INCH.

OBSTRUCTIONISTS ARE WARNED

MR. WILSON DECLARES GERMAN GOVERNMENT HAS SPOKESMEN IN AMERICA, BUT THEY BETRAY THEMSELVES.

(International News Service.)

Washington, June 14.—In a Flag Day address President Wilson today outlined this nation's aims in its war with Germany. Two hours before the Flag Day exercises at the foot of Washington's monument, a terrific thunderstorm broke over the city. Just before 2 o'clock the skies cleared, however, and the ceremonies were carried out.

(International News Service.)

Washington, June 14.—This is "Old Glory's Day."

Flag Day has been proclaimed by the president of the United States as the one day in the year when each loyal American shall pay respect to his flag, and never has the day been more fittingly observed than today. From the White House cupola to the tiniest gable of the smallest house in the farthest corner of the nation, the national emblem was displayed today.

President Wilson, the nation's leader delivered a speech this afternoon at the foot of the historic Washington monument in honor of the flag of the United States, that emblem first conceived by Betsy Ross in Philadelphia 140 years ago.

Washington, June 14.—(Special.)

In his Flag Day address here today President Wilson exposed with bold frankness the peace proposals of the German government and declared that if the military masters of Germany are forced back an inch "their power both at home and abroad will fall to pieces like a house of cards."

The president characterized the actions of the German government towards the United States as "extraordinary insults and aggressions." He declared "the military masters of Germany denied us the right to be neutral." He sketched the causes of the present war and told of how Austria-Hungary, Turkey and the small nations of Europe have been ground under the heel of Germany military and political control.

President Wilson said in part as follows:

"Is it not easy to understand the eagerness for peace that has been manifested from Berlin ever since the snare was set and sprung? Peace, peace, peace has been the talk of the foreign office for now a year and more; not peace upon her own initiative, but upon the initiative of the nations over which she now deems herself to hold the advantage. A little of the talk has been public, but most of it has been private. Through all sorts of channels it has come to me, and in all sorts of guises, but never with the terms disclosed which the German government would be willing to accept. That government has other valuable pawns in its hands besides those I have mentioned. It still holds a valuable part of France, though with slowly relaxing grasp, and practically the whole of Belgium. Its armies press close upon Russia and

LONDON AIR RAID PLANNED TO 'GET' GENERAL PERSHING

But American Leader Had Previously Departed Secretly For France

WAVE OF WRATH SWEEPS ENGLAND

Victims, Nearly Half a Thousand, Were Burned By Fire Shells

(International News Service.)

London, June 15.—The latest German air raid in which 97 were killed and 439 wounded was the most destructive as regards human life ever made. Since January 1, 1915, the Germans have made 23 aerial attacks killing more than 600 persons.

(International News Service.)

London, June 14.—That the Germans counted upon the possibility of "getting" Gen. John J. Pershing, the American commander, in their devastating air attack yesterday, was an opinion put forth here today. Gen. Pershing had secretly gone to France Tuesday night, but it was considered likely that the Germans knew nothing of this. American army medical officers who are still in London got their first glimpse of warfare when they visited the East End and other districts where 97 persons were killed and 437 wounded by the German bombs.

A wave of wrath has swept the British isles over the large number of women and children killed and wounded and demands for reprisals have been renewed.

Among the American officers who inspected the bomb-wrecked district was Dr. Hugh H. Young, formerly of Johns Hopkins university of Baltimore, and now a major in the medical officers reserve corps. Dr. Young said it was evident the Germans were using a form of fire shell.

"The victims," Dr. Young said, were injured not only by flying fragments of shrapnel causing deep, penetrating wounds and fractures, but also by severe burns. This indicated that the Germans used bombs of an incendiary character.

"The population showed no fear. As soon as the explosions were heard the people crowded the streets, windows and roofs and showed only contempt for the methods of the Germans who succeeded only in maiming and killing helpless women and children without doing anything of military advantage."

BRITISH RENEW DRIVE IN BELGIUM; MORE WINS.

(International News Service.)
London, June 14.—The British have renewed their advance in Belgium. The Germans were compelled to give up important first line positions during the night and these were occupied by the British forces, the war office announced today.

The chief advances of Field Marshal Haig's armies were made east of Messines between the Lys and Stuyves rivers, at the Ploegsteert wood and in the sector of Gastard.

JAPAN WILL SEND MISSION TO U. S.

RESENTMENT THERE DUE TO THE PUBLICATION OF A BOGUS NOTE.

(International News Service.)

Washington, June 14.—Japan will send a diplomatic mission to the United States, the state department was informed today. The mission will reach the Pacific coast about the middle of July. Its personnel has not yet been announced.

Resentment in Japan over the recent American note to China is entirely due, in the opinion of Secretary Lansing, to the publication in Japan of a bogus note purporting to have been dispatched from New York June 9. Dispatches had reported that the Japanese foreign office was piqued because Japan was not consulted before the American note was forwarded to Peking.

GEN. WOOD INSPECTING MONTGOMERY CAMP SITES

Ten Of Thirteen Men In Albany Postoffice Buy Liberty Bonds

Ten Liberty Loan bonds were bought yesterday afternoon by the employees of the Albany postoffice. After a campaign by several members of the force, bonds were sold to ten out of thirteen men, making the average for the office about 77 per cent.

This average is considered excellent but it is expected that it will go higher. Eighty-three per cent of the employees of the Nashville postoffice have bought Liberty Loan bonds. The local postoffice is ambitious to have an average of 100 per cent and have a perfect score.

TRADING AT HOME;
TUSCALOOSA'S WAY.

Tuscaloosa is beginning to trade at home, and the merchants of Tuscaloosa, aided by the newspapers, are responsible for the turning of the tide of commerce from the eastern and northern cities to Tuscaloosa. Trading at home, like many other good things, could not be obtained in Tuscaloosa without the aid of money. The money was spent for advertising by the local merchants and advertising is the agency directly responsible for the change. Each day in the Tuscaloosa News forty-one of the progressive business men buy a five-column space to urge the citizens to trade at home.

A copy of the advertisement of Tuesday last, for instance, recites the trite adage that "constant drip wears out the rock" and that the persistent hammering that is being waged by the merchants for the "Buy in Tuscaloosa" movement is beginning to have its effect. Loyalty to country, home state and home town is held up as the watchword of the hour.

What Tuscaloosa has done the Twin Cities can do. Tuesday's advertisement was number 16 of the series. Thus, eighty columns of newspaper space has been used in this one campaign to get Tuscaloosa people to trade at home. Eighty columns of newspaper space is 1,600 inches. It represents quite a tidy little sum of money to be spent by one town in one campaign. But it was worth it. And it will be worth it to the twin cities of Albany and Decatur.

Systematic publicity is the greatest enemy the mail order houses have.

THE GRECIAN SITUATION.

The abdication of King Constantine of Greece, brother-in-law of the imperial German kaiser, is but another step in the direction of universal liberty. With this yoke removed from the necks of the brave Hellenes, it may confidently be predicted that Greece is to enter the war on the side of the entente, and is to throw the weight of her small but splendid army into the scales against autocracy and militarism.

To trample upon Grecian rights and to force Greece to abandon her alleged policy of neutrality, would be as grave a breach of international law as the German invasion of Belgium, were the circumstances the same. They are not. By permitting Bulgarian soldiers to occupy Greek territory and by permitting Greek soldiers to surrender to the Bulgars, Constantine long since forfeited any claim to neutrality behind which he might attempt to hide. The plain, bald fact is that the Grecian monarch attempted to fight in the German cause, and finding himself opposed by the patriot Venizelos and by the rank and file of his own people, clung to neutrality as a weak excuse for his pro-Germanism. He has been forced out into the open, compelled to reveal his true colors, and he stands exposed before the world today as a German sympathizer and intriguer.

No sympathy will be wasted upon the deposed monarch. He deserves none. Teuton to the core, he donned the clothing of the wolf and posing as the guardian of his people, worked night and day for non-action, knowing well that by so doing he was contributing to the success of the kaiser's cause. His alliance with Serbia, by which Greece was bound to fight side by side with that brave people in the event that either nation was attacked, was regarded as but "a scrap of paper," and was as ruthlessly disregarded as was the German treaty with Belgium. The sophistry, the deceit, the gall of Wilhelm was exceeded only by that of Constantine, his brother-in-law and sincere confederate and conspirator.

A new day has dawned in Greece. Relieved of the presence of the monarch who fought for his country, last and for Germany first, the spirit of the heroes of Thermopylae will move the Grecians to greater deeds of valor in the cause of the entente, and of the United States and of liberty.

ATHENS NEWS

The well advertised "Womanless Wedding" took place last evening in the music hall of the Athens college. A fine and appreciative crowd was in attendance.

Mrs. Sam Clem is visiting her brothers and sisters in Athens. She has a host of friends who knew her as Miss Lina Malone, and all give her a hearty welcome to her old home, and hope she will make her visit long enough so all her friends can see her. She is now with Judge Geo. Malone.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simmons have returned from Washington, and are loud in their praise of Mrs. Elliott, in whose party they were. They give Washington praise, too, for its hearty entertainment of the "old boys in gray."

Miss Hortense Simpson has returned from Washington, also Mrs. Hatchett and daughter, Lula.

News from Wm. A. Hine tells of his promotion, his company having been transferred to Boston.

Fortune Telling.

Oh, cross her palm with silver
And gaze into the glass,
And the gypsy lady tells you
What will maybe come to pass.
Good luck in abundance
If you're liberal and nice,
Bad luck—your deserve it—
If you haggle at the price.

Oh, cross his palm with silver
When you meet a flattering
Friend.
He tries to soothe your feelings
As his compliments extend.
Your goodness and your greatness
He'll place upon display.
But he'll measure his opinions
By the price you care to pay.

Hints for the Housewife.

Take two or three thicknesses of woolen carpeting or any heavy woolen fabric, tack on to a piece of wood of convenient size to handle. Use this for dusting the kitchen range. It will brighten up the polish and keep the hands clean.

When blankets have become too thin for ordinary use put two or three together and cover them with pretty saten to make quilts. To keep them in shape they can be buttoned down here and there like mattresses. A frill of saten makes a nice finish.

When washing blankets, after drying them thoroughly they should be well beaten with an ordinary carpet beater. This makes the wool light and soft and gives the blankets a new appearance.

Newspapers may be used in many ways to lighten work. Cut in small squares and hang them from a convenient hook. Use the pieces to rub off the stove, wipe out a greasy dish or on which to set a smoky kettle. They save utensils in dressing chickens and preparing vegetables, nuts and fruit; they protect the sink drain if used to wipe out greasy dishes before washing. If dampened and torn into bits they may be used to keep down dust sweepings. When tightly twisted they make good packing for a home-made fireless cooker.

When cooking herring place them on a dish, with a piece of butter on each; cover and leave in a fairly heated oven for ten minutes. This preserves the juice and flavor of the fish.

Take half a lemon, remove seeds and pound up pulp in skin. Fill with salt and use this to clean brass pipes and faucets. Use a soft flannel cloth to get a high polish after the salt and lemon have been applied.

HUMOR

Plenty of Cover.
"Don't you find it inconvenient sleeping out of doors all the time?" asked the kind lady.

"No, ma'am," responded Optimistic Oscar, tipping his crownless hat. "I always choose a nice flower bed, and like as not I have sheets of rain and blankets of fog and all the discomforts of a home."

Change of Plan.
"Have you given up your idea of buying a little farm?"

"I have."
"You ought not to be discouraged." "It isn't that. I gave up the idea about the time my wife induced me to give up the money I had saved for the farm and buy an automobile."

An Impertinent Inquiry.
"Yes," said the hushhouse landlady, as she poured the alleged coffee, "my great-grandfather was burned at the stake by the Indians."

"Excuse me," interrupted the new boarder, who was sawing away at a piece of meat, "but is this the steak?"

Not Gentle Enough.
Ennepek—I'd like to buy a nice, gentle driving horse.

Dealer—I've got just the horse you want. He is so quiet and gentle that a woman can drive him.

Ennepek—But I want one that I can drive myself. Is that the gentlest you have?

Another Labor Union.

She—Yes, dear, I love you even though you are a poor man. But do you think you will be able to provide for me?

He—Yes, darling; by this strong right arm I swear it—even if I have to carry home washing for you to do.

GENTLE HINT.

Doctor Endee—Your husband needs a rest. I recommend a two-months' tour of South America.

Mrs. Nagger—Fine! We'll leave next week.

Doctor Endee—Pardon me, but you misunderstood. He must go alone—I said he needed a rest.

Matter of Business.

"Sir," said the indignant maid, "what did you mean by kissing me?"

"Why, I—er—didn't mean anything," stammered the young man in the sketch.

"Then don't you ever do it again," said the fair party of the prelude. "I don't allow any man to get osculatory with me unless he means business."

Happy Thought.

Miss Askit—When one sends a parcel by express, why do they always ask the name and address of the sender?

Percy Pinklegh—Why—er—so they'll know where to return it in case it is—er—lost or stolen, doncher know.

Heard at the Ball Park.

She—Papa says our minister's salary is only half as much as this pitcher's is.

He—Well, perhaps the pitcher's delivery is twice as good.

Shallow Cultivation

(By Ernest Carnes, County Agent.)

THIS is a critical season of the year for the farmer. With the pressing need of cultivation even the best farmer may be led to cultivate his land too wet or too deep at this particular time. The result of course will mean a decrease in the yield. All cotton and corn that is up something like a foot high should be cultivated shallow. Some farmers are now using the double shovels or "scooter" plows around their corn, plowing some four or five inches deep, and the land is too wet to plow. This of course means that they are breaking the feed roots of the corn, preventing the plant from being able to take up its food, and that the land will dry out just as deep as it is plowed. Most of the plant food of the soil is near the surface, being brought there by capillarity, and if deep plowing is done the result will be that the plant will not be able to utilize the food that has been prepared for it. A scratcher or junior cultivator will make a shallow mulch which will keep the moisture near the surface, let the feed roots remain undisturbed, permit the plant to use all the available plant food, and gives you a larger store house for keeping your water supply.

If an ideal mulch is formed, a sandy soil will hold some 25 per cent of its dry weight in moisture; a clay soil 40 to 50 per cent; while a soil with a reasonable amount of humus will hold some 60 to 70 per cent. We can see very readily why our soils that contain decaying organic matter (humus) do not suffer from a shortage of water supply like land that is deficient in organic matter. This is illustrated by the "galled" spots being the first to suffer during a dry season. I am no prophet, but I sincerely believe that we are soon to have a dry season, and by all means, get you a shallow mulch formed as soon as the soil will permit to take care of the water you already have and cultivate immediately after every rain to retain this mulch.

Forgot His Wife?

He was particularly polite to women, and usually made a good impression on them. A young woman who was visiting at the family hotel in which he resided grew enthusiastic about his manners.

"Oh, he's such a perfect gentleman!" she exclaimed. "He always remembers the little things which mean so much."

"Yes," agreed her hostess. "For instance, he and his wife were coming down from the roof in the elevator last evening. I boarded the elevator at the fourth floor, and the instant I entered he removed his hat and held it in his hand all the rest of the way down."—Life.

Says the Sun Didn't Stand Still:

Joshua's command to the sun and moon to "stand still" only meant that they should be "eclipsed," according to Dr. Thomas Dick Wilson, professor of Hebrew at Princeton Theological seminary. The word usually translated "stand still" in the Bible, is the Hebrew damu, said Doctor Wilson, which really means "eclipse." "When my students come to me," he said, "with doubts as to whether God actually upset the laws of gravitation at the request of Joshua, I say: 'Don't worry. Nothing had taken place.'"

AS an American citizen, as a lover of Freedom, as one who wishes to hasten the coming of a Righteous Peace, it is your duty to buy a Liberty Bond.

In no other way can you, right now, do your country a greater service.

Let the bond you buy be for as large an amount as you can afford. If necessary, make a personal sacrifice to do this.

The money you pay for a Liberty Bond is not given away. It is invested in the safest investment in the world—a United States government bond. Behind it are the entire resources of the United States. The Liberty Bond you buy pays 3½ per cent interest and is exempt from all taxation, except estate or inheritance taxes.

Buying a Liberty Bond is as simple as buying a suit of clothes. Go to any bank, trust company, express or post-office and ask for an application blank. Make a first payment of two per cent ($1 in the case of a $50 bond; $2 for a $100 bond) when you subscribe and arrange to make other payments when they fall due—June 28, July 30, Aug. 15, Aug. 30. Liberty Bonds are salable anywhere and at any time. Any banker will accept them as security for a loan. They are issued in these amounts: $50, $100, $500, $1000 and up.

File your application TODAY

LIBERTY LOAN COMMITTEE

(This advertisement donated to the Government without charge by the National Cartoon Service Corporation of New York)

You take no risk when you serve your Country by subscribing to

The Liberty Loan of 1917

With our young men willing and anxious to offer their lives, the least we who stay at home can do is to lend our money for their support.

You can lend your country $50 or more, thereby rendering a patriotic service—and your money will be safe.

PURE OXYGEN LIKE POISON

When It Is Applied at Pressure of Several Atmospheres Warm-Blooded Animal Dies Quickly.

There is a seeming incongruity in speaking of oxygen as a poison; yet scientists say that it has long been known that if a warm-blooded animal be submitted to pure oxygen at a pressure of several atmospheres it will die as promptly and surely as if it were in an atmosphere of pure nitrogen. It is pointed out that even exposures to lesser pressures of oxygen over a considerable time are often attended with fatal results, the most familiar of which are severe inflammation of the lungs, thus leading indirectly to death.

Professor Karsner has attempted to define more accurately the possible pathologic effects of this gas, which is being used freely as a therapeutic agent, as a prophylactic against asphyxia in anesthesia in the industries, and in the exigencies of submarine or aerial performances. His studies show that atmospheres containing from 80 to 96 per cent of oxygen under normal barometric pressure usually produce, in animals, in the course of one or two days, congestion, and finally a pneumonia, probably of irritative origin and to be described as a "fibrinous broncho-pneumonia."

News in Brief.

I only want to report that our cat got drowned in the cistern this morning; the baby is cutting a new tooth; the cook left without warning; we are out of sugar and starch; the stove pipe fell down; the milkman left only a pint instead of a quart today; the bread won't rise; my oldest child is coming down with the measles; the plumbing in the cellar leaks; we have only enough coal to last through tomorrow; the paint gave out when I got half over the dining-room door; the mainspring of the clock is broken; my three sisters-in-law are coming to visit tomorrow; the man has not called for the garbage for two weeks; our dog has mange; the looking-glass fell off the wall a while ago and broke to pieces, and I think that my husband is taking considerable notice of a widow lady that lives next door. That's all today, but if anything happens later I'll call you up and tell you about it.—Youth's Companion.

Service.

And the question always is whether men shall serve, or merely be unhappy because they cannot serve in a certain way. If the path that they would like to tread is—through no fault of theirs—closed to them, it is for them to open another path, and walk steadily therein. They may never win fame, never gain the applause of the world, and may even be criticized by the foolish for seeming to shrink, but they will have the approval of their own consciences, and the good opinions of all those whose opinions are worth anything. Gifts, by their very nature, are not things that can be acquired—though may be cultivated—for they are things given. If they are not given, there is and can be no responsibility for failing to use them.—Exchange.

Let Her Go On and On.

A long-suffering husband had a wife who seemed to be perpetually talking. After driving him almost frantic one evening with her conversation she remarked: "John, I suppose when I die you'll have a mausoleum built in my memory."

"I will do nothing of the sort," returned the exasperated John. "When you die I will have you cremated and your ashes placed in an hour-glass. Then you can keep on going forever."

No Need for Study.

Mrs. Flatbush—Does your husband make you study economy?
Mrs. Bensonhurst—Why, no; I don't have to study it. I know it by heart.

Calling Cards—The last word in correct stationery can be obtained from the Daily. Look our line over.

LECTURE ON JOURNALISM.

"See here," snapped the city editor to the cub reporter, "you've crammed his obituary notice full of flowery compliments."

"But I thought—" "This man didn't die in jail, did he?" "No, sir." "He was not killed while trying to rob a safe?" "No, sir." "And he wasn't shot down in a running battle with the police?" "Of course not, sir."

"Well, when a citizen dies a natural death in bed, surrounded by his weeping relatives, the public takes it for granted that he had his good points."

The Professor's Dilemma.

Booker—Professor Delvington is in a terrible quandary.
Booker—Why, what's the trouble?
Booker—He has discovered a new disease and can't find any germ for it.

Time is Swift.

Miss Elderly—I don't think much of the young men of today.
Miss Swift—Well, if you wait for the young men of tomorrow you are very apt to get left.

WASN'T A FOLDING BED.

"I don't see how you stand lying in bed so late."
"My dear, I beg that you will believe that I am no contortionist; I don't stand when I lie in bed."

Epigram.

"Tomorrow never comes"—that's true! Dodge six months since did borrow A ten which when I ask him for He says he'll pay "tomorrow."

Safety First.

"Is your car capable of making 60 miles an hour?"
"I can't speak from personal experience," replied the cautious motorist. "I thought once or twice it was going to get away from me and travel about 60 miles an hour, but I managed to stop it in time."

The Day After.

Jack—Who is that fine-looking girl that just bowed to you?
Tom (gloomily)—Oh, that was my sister.
Jack—Why, old chap, I wasn't aware that you had a sister.
Tom—Well, I wasn't aware of it myself until last night.

Like Other Things.

"Stories first heard at your mother's knee," remarked the moralizer, "are never forgotten."
"Yes," rejoined the demoralizer, "and it is the same way with some other things received at a mother's knee."

Then and Now.

Jack—When I was a boy the girls used to laugh at me for being afraid in the dark.
Tom—Do they now?
Jack—No. Now they laugh at me for being afraid of them.

Not Too Close.

"Diggs is intimate with many of the city officials."
"Yes, but not so closely allied as to place him under suspicion."

At the Club.

"Has old Millions much of a family?"
"Numerous—but not much!"

DECIDEDLY SO.

"I first examine the patient's hear to show how much treatment he will stand."
"It's unprofessional to do that before you examine the pocketbook."

One and the Same.
The hand that rocks the cradle And the baby is the same Hand that wields the slipper A little later in the game.

Tactfully Turned Down.
Frank—Let's get engaged?
Maude—Very well, but who will you get engaged to?

ROOT MISSION IS AT PETROGRAD

(International News Service.) Petrograd, June 14.—The American mission, headed by Elihu Root, which came here to help the provisional government solve the huge problems confronting it, already has entered upon the task. Members of the mission today consulted with representatives of the Lovett cabinet. There are two American missions in Petrograd now. The second is dealing with transportation affairs and lack of railway facilities.

Mr. Root and others of the commission will live at the winter palace while here. They will be formally presented to the whole provisional government tomorrow.

Shipping Losses Due To Submarines In Barred Zone Grow

London, June 14.—Naval men today interpreted the increase in shipping losses as showing that Germany is using more submarines in the barred zone waters. According to the official admiralty statement, 28 vessels of all sizes were sunk during the week ending June 10, as compared with 23 for the preceding week.

Texas Wheat Crop Is Reported Good

A. V. McNear Here on Visit After Absence of Forty Years. "The Texas wheat crop is fine." This is the optimistic assurance of A. V. McNear, of Boyd, Texas, who is visiting relatives here after an absence from the county of forty years. "Harvesting is already under way in the Boyd section," said Mr. McNear, "and the yield promises to be large. The growers are now expecting to sell their wheat for about $2.00 per bushel at the threshing, but may not get so good a price."

Mr. McNear has just returned from Washington, where he attended the reunion, Baltimore, New York and other points east.

Soldiers of One Army.

"Are not all true men that live, or that ever lived, soldiers of the same army, enlisted under heaven's captaincy, to do battle against the same enemy, the empire of darkness and wrong? Why should we mislead one another, fight not against the enemy, but against ourselves, from mere difference of uniform? All uniforms shall be good, as they hold in them true, valiant men."—Carlyle.

All Wrong.

Bobbie was put to bed by his nurse about the time it began to get dark. He then awakened early in the morning, but was told by his nurse not to talk or he would awaken his parents in the next room. "Well, this is a funny world for little boys," he said. "You have to go to bed when it gets dark, and they won't let you get up when it gets light."

"The Terrapin War."

"The Terrapin war" was a nickname used by the opponents of the war of 1812 on account of the embargo against trade with England and commercial intercourse with Canada. They said this cutting of commerce was like a terrapin drawing within its own shell, though as a matter of fact a terrapin always has good reason for such action.

Not Fairly Divided.

Little Eleanor had been to church for the first time and on her return home her grandmother asked her how she liked it. "Oh, I liked it all right," she replied, "but the men didn't act a bit fair." "What did they do?" "Why, one man did all the hard work and another man came around and got all the money."

Where He Beat "Dizzy."

When Disraeli was prime minister of England a good-looking young man applied to him for a government position. "I know, sir," said the applicant, wistfully, "how little I know." "Dear me," said Disraeli, "as much as that? I haven't got half that distance yet."

Bird Courts.

It is said that there are courts among birds. Crows frequently carry on trials of guilty members of the flock. The prisoner is said to be stationed in the middle of the circle of witnesses. He is released if acquitted, but if he is found guilty, the entire flock closes in upon him and soon kill him.

Removing Insects From Ear.

Insects that have crawled into the baby's ear may be suffocated by dropping sweet oil or castor oil into the ear, which after 20 minutes should be washed out by gentle syringing with warm water from a fountain syringe, hung one foot above the child's head.

CHINESE LABOR GOING TO FRANCE

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND CELESTIALS WILL BE MOVED.

(International News Service.)

Tokio, June 14.—The steaming capacity of practically every British steamer running between the far east and Vancouver has been requisitioned by the British government for the transportation of Chinese labor to be used in the fields and factories of France.

On good authority it was learned today that the British government plans to transport 250,000 Chinese laborers to supply the dwindling man power of France.

Thousands already have been taken to Europe by way of the Suez and the Mediterranean. The French government has been transporting mechanics and laborers from India-China since shortly after the war began, but the transportation of Chinese by the British is comparatively recent.

TABLETS 4,000 YEARS OLD

Writings Dating Back as Far as 2,000 B. C. Are Translated by University of Wisconsin Professor.

A number of Sumerian tablets, written at least as early as 2,000 B. C., have been translated by Prof. F. T. Kelly of the department of Semitic languages at the University of Wisconsin. Of about thirty cones and tablets translated, almost all were lists of animals and men.

The Sumerian tablets are difficult to read, as the writing is a combination of wedges used in different arrangements to form words, and the grammatical construction is not like that of any other language. Most of the tablets are dated by correlating them with certain well-known events, such as the year a certain city was devastated or the year a king was crowned. The contract tablets are mostly lists of commodities, such as the following:

"One cow (received) from Garkualah, the farmer; one cow exchanged for the donkey of Nanlasi; sixteen sheep exchanged for the donkey of Nannuskanitir; one gur, ten qa of grain, eatables (bread) (received) for a sacrifice (sacred feast) of Raki-gishnika at Erech. The donkey of Er-Erarashar was captured alive at Shaduhebruni, the year (the king) devastated Hakkuri."

SUDDEN DEATH

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys.

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uræmic poisoning occurs and the person dies, and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a sample package of "Anurio"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. When you suffer from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, it's time to write Dr. Pierce, describe your symptoms and get his medical opinion without charge—absolutely free. This "Anurio" of Doctor Pierce's is found to be 37 times more active than lithia, for it dissolves uric acid in the system as hot water does sugar.

Simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Anurio Tablets. There can be no imitation. Every package of "Anurio" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for blood and stomach.

WORRY, DESPONDENCY.

Kidney Disease is suspected by medical men when patients complain of backache or suffer with irregular urination, disturbed, too frequent, scanty or painful passage. The general symptoms are rheumatic pains or neuralgia, headaches, dizzy spells, irritability, despondency, weakness and general misery. Worry is a frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Thousands have testified to immediate relief from these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's Anurio Tablets.

The Young People's Missionary society will meet tomorrow afternoon with Miss Helen Higdon on Second avenue.

FRAZIER-EMENS.

On Tuesday the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Emens was made beautiful with ferns and flowers for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Josephine Emens, to Mr. Argos Frazier. An improvised altar had been made in the alcove of the drawing room and was lit with numerous candles in brass and crystal candelabra. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, by Mrs. Fred Tidwell, four little spirits, Evelyn Barnard, Frances Lile, Julia Lynn Barnard and Jennie Mae Davidson, all in white, entered, each carrying a white ribbon which formed the aisle for the bride party. Miss Birchie Aldridge was handsome in a gown of grey georgette crepe and carried pink Killarney roses, entreated with Mr. Fritz Frazier. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Lucy Emens, who was becomingly gowned in a all green crepe de chine and carried pink carnations, followed by Miss Elizabeth Ann Hudson, who was a lovely little miss in white chiffon. Miss Emens, who was strikingly handsome in a gold green suit with grey accessories, and carried an arm cluster of valley lilies and bride roses, entered with father, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Green, of Tennessee, where the marriage ceremony was performed in a most impressive manner by Rev. Beall. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Frazier left for points in the east and on their return will be at home in Lawrenceburg, Tenn.

A great many gifts of silver and cut glass attested the popularity of these young people. A lovely pre-nuptial musical program was rendered.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Buchheit, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Greenhill, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hutson and Mr. Frazier.

The Auction Bridge club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Wm. McNeill.

Mrs. Earl Smith, of Huntsville, is the guest of Mrs. P. G. Kimbrough.

The Embroidery club of Trinity complimented Miss Josephine Emens on Monday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. R. L. Neville. The interior of the home was made beautiful with a profusion of pink and white flowers.

Punch was served by Misses Annie Laurie Neville and Sarah Pearl Emens. Each guest responded with a toast to the bride.

Heart-shaped score cards were used in the guessing contest, after which little Elizabeth Ann Hutson, the niece of the bride, impersonating cupid, drew in a beautifully decorated wagon which was overflowing with handsome gifts for the bride-to-be. The pink and white motif was carried out in the heart-shaped ices.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Shelton and son, Barrett, of Albany, Ala., are spending a few days with their mother, Mrs. W. C. Sheppard. Mr. and Mrs. Shelton have just returned from a motor trip to his old home at Frankfort, Ky., and visited Louisville and Lexington while in the Blue Grass state. Mr. Shelton is still the moving spirit on the Albany-Decatur Daily, published at Albany, and is enjoying the usual good health that is tested by the daily newspaper gorge.

SILK STOCKING CLUB.

Mrs. Stanley Green was hostess to the Silk Stocking club this morning. In the game of bridge Miss Marjorie Miller won the club prize.

The many friends here of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCalla, and Miss Margaret McCalla, will note with regret that they will make their home in Montgomery in future.

Mrs. Bettie Almon, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Lulu Almon, left for Moulton today, after a pleasant visit to relatives here.

Mrs. Wm. Boswell has been seriously ill at her father's home, J. L. Lile, in Trinty, but is convalescent.

Mrs. Ed Warren, of Birmingham, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Gus Blackwell.

Miss Maud Calry is entertaining today for Miss Bowman.

Mrs. I. N. Hutt, of Texarkana, Ark., after an extended eastern trip, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Robertson.

Miss Julia Morris is attending summer school in Auburn.

Mrs. S. A. Oden and children have returned to Birmingham, after a visit to her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. A. Andrew.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Cartwright will leave today for a visit to Mrs. Cartwright's father, J. W. Freult, at Moulton.

WARMTH IS FOUND IN SNOW

Without Its Protection in Winter Timber Supplies of the Northern Areas Would Disappear.

Few of our readers would credit that the absence of snow would double the price of timber. The greater part of our common timber comes from the forests of Canada, Scandinavia and Russia. All these countries suffer from a very severe winter, says London Tit-Bits.

For nearly five months of the year their surface is buried deep under a mantle of snow, and the thermometer in the heart of the greatest pine forests not uncommonly falls to 30 degrees below zero, i. e., 62 degrees of frost. Snow is one of the best nonconductors of heat or cold in the world, and when the fall is a foot deep a thermometer showing 0 degrees on its surface will be buried beneath the snow, rise to about 30 degrees. The snow, therefore, is an enormous blanket, protecting the roots of the trees from the intense cold.

A full-fledged pine can stand almost any degree of cold, but a young tree cannot do so. It might sprout during summer, but a snowless winter would infallibly kill it. If, therefore, snow ceased, the enormous timber supplies of northern Europe, Asia and America would disappear.

Corns Peel Right Off With "Gets-It"

2 Drops, and the Corn is a "Goner!"

When you've got to walk on the sides of your shoe to get away from those awful corn-pains, there's only one common-sense thing to do.

Use "Gets-It!" Your Corns Won't Swell in Water, Besides, They'll Shrive! Loosen and Peel Off!

Put 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It" on the corn right away. Pain and inflammation will disappear, the corn will begin to shrivel from that instant—then it loosens and falls right off.

There's no other corn-remover in the world that acts like "Gets-It." No new discovery has been made in corn-removers since "Gets-It" was born. Don't forget that fact. "Gets-It" does away forever with the use of salves that irritate, bandages that make a bundle of your toes, plasters that half do the work, knives and scissors that draw blood. Use "Gets-It"—no more digging or cutting.

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in New Decatur and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Freunt-Dillehay Drug Co. and Thompson Drug Store.

DUTY TO GROWING GIRLS AND BOYS

Look out for the boy or girl as soon as they reach the school age. Give them food that really nourishes. Equip them to arrive at manhood and womanhood in vigorous condition to take up the battle of life.

If your child is thin and lacks vitality, feed him HEMO and increase his vitality. HEMO is a food—not a drug.

HEMO is a concentrated food made with the idea of supplying many of the elements needed in assisting nature to rebuild old blood cells and to manufacture new ones. It is so pleasing to the taste, so easy to assimilate, and so well tolerated by the stomach that a minimum amount of effort by the digestive system is required in converting the food elements into red blood corpuscles.

It is an ideal lunch for the boy or girl, or a pleasing beverage at meal time. Its use will convince you. Makes a delicious food drink by simply adding water.

We suggest that you try a 50c package with our guarantee of satisfaction. Thompson Drug Store, Albany, and Owl Drug Co., Decatur.

In Russia, women will be included in the revolutionary turn-over which is rapidly bringing democracy to the Russian people. Assurance has come from Prince Lvoff, Premier of the Provisional Government, that women are to help elect delegates to the Constituent Assembly. "With such a radical change," says one dispatch, "full extension of the franchise to them will soon follow." In the meanwhile at the Congress of Workers, Soldiers and Delegates held in Petrograd on April 17, a report was adopted containing the recommendation that "women shall have the same voting right as men."

An Act of Reparation.

In February of this year, Signor Sacchi, Italian Minister of Justice, presented to the Italian Chamber a bill, the object of which is the abrogation of every law by which, in the field of civil and commercial rights, the capacities of women are at present curtailed. According to the Minister of Justice, this reform will constitute "An act of justice—of reparation almost—to which women have now more right than ever." A resolution that the bill be passed is signed by all the principal women's national associations.

Tennessee Valley Bank Open Tonight to Sell Loan Bonds

The Tennessee Valley Bank, Bank street, will keep its doors open tonight from 7:30 to 9 o'clock to sell Liberty Loan bonds.

The bank has had a rush of Liberty Loan business since its club savings plan was announced Tuesday in the Daily, and President Hendrix and Cashier Fussell are delighted with the results. Among those who have bought bonds on this plan is one negro, the only negro the bank has interested in the loan. Scores of the bonds have been sold on the savings club plan and the purchasers in most instances could not have bought the bonds in any other way.

A YOUNG WAR FARMER.

Llewellyn Hicks, who lives with his parents in South Albany, and was a student in the city schools, has leased a small farm from his grandfather, Dudley Ransom, who lives near Sonerville, and is spending most of his time tilling the soil. It was a war impulse that moved the youngster to get busy farming, and he plans to feed not only one, but many soldiers when his crops are gathered this fall.

RED CROSS NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the Red Cross society of Albany, held at the Y. M. C. A. building on Friday, June 15, at 4:30 o'clock. Business of importance is to come before the meeting. A full attendance is urgently requested. For the information of the public generally would say, the way for charter membership is still open, the fee of one dollar covering the expense of membership. This fee goes to Red Cross headquarters at Washington. We hope for the next two days to largely increase the membership.

CHAS. BASSETT, Secretary.
J. L. GUNTER, Chairman.

The membership, publicity and finance committees will meet directly after the regular meeting. A full attendance is urged.

IVAN AS SEEN IN TRENCHES

Letter From Artist in Trenches Tells How Russians Face Death in Fierce Fighting.

The Paris Figaro contains many letters from Russian soldiers who, before the war began, were residents in Paris. One, an artist, thus describes a scene one evening before orders were carried out by the regiment to make a move in the rear. At a certain place, on the Russian front the gassing from the enemy became unendurable, largely because of the weak location of the Russian trench. To remain where the regiment was was to court certain suffocation. To retire meant volleys of shells. It was resolved to retire. A few minutes were given for Ivan—the Russian boy—to prepare.

"One of them," writes the Figaro's correspondent, "took from his breast a cross and kissed it three times. Then, looking toward the dark sky, repeated the sacred words, mother, father and wife. He replaced the cross in his breast, and said, quietly, 'I am ready.' He was the first to fall under the merciless fire of the enemy. Another soldier, not long in the trenches, and speaking with an eastern accent, knelt in the cold, damp trench, and went through his devotions. 'It will be easier,' he said, 'for me to die than Ivan here. I have no one to care for me.'"

But he got through the scrimmage to our rear trench. Such are the fortunes of the trench in this eastern fight.

Huntsville Embryo Officer Shoots at Wife and Rival

(International News Service.)

Atlanta, Ga., June 14.—Joe Kirk, of Huntsville, who is attending the officers' reserve training camp at Ft. McPherson, in a fit of jealousy today shot and wounded himself in an effort to shoot his wife. He had previously fired at another student officer, but missed his mark.

After Kirk had displayed his bad marksmanship, he placed his arm around his wife and pulled the trigger of his revolver. The bullet missed the woman and entered Kirk's arm, inflicting a painful wound.

Gen. Pershing Guest of French President

(International News Service.)

Paris, June 14.—Major General John J. Pershing, the American commander-in-chief, was received in audience today by President Poincaré of France. The meeting took place at the palace of the Elysee, where Gen. Pershing was afterward entertained at luncheon.

BRAIN WORKS BEST AT NIGHT

Many Noted Writers and Painters Have Found Calm and Quiet Conducive to Best Work.

The brain can apply itself and work far better at night than at any other time is the conclusion to which Albert Cim has arrived in his treatise of the subject in a recent number of the French magazine La Revue.

The reasons upon which he has based his conclusion are, first, that you do not risk being disturbed by telephone, visitors, janitors or cooks; second, that there is a calm and silence at night which is most propitious to thought, a calm which reigns nearly everywhere and at that time envelops one; and, third, there is no incommode noise at night.

He cites the cases of authors who wrote only at this time; George Sand, for instance, whose favorite hours were from midnight to 4 a. m.; M. Irtre, who works at night and does his digging and delving in lexicons in the day; Balzac was another nightworker and when he was forced to work by day he invariably drew the blinds and lit the candles to fool himself into believing it night. He went to bed generally at 6 or 7 and was called at midnight.

Painters, M. Cim says, find night conducive to work. Here he cites the case of Guizot.

LOST ON THE DESERT AIR

Excited Old Gentleman Was Wasting Wrathful Words in His Harangue Over the Wire.

Sputtering and fussing, an excited old gentleman entered an office in a local skyscraper the other day and without deigning to ask permission of the girl stenographer, grabbed up a telephone.

Yanking the receiver from its hook the old gentleman began to talk without pausing to learn whether or not central had made his connection.

"Say," he yelled, "is this Umson's? Well, if Mr. Umson is there call him to the phone."

The stenographer pulled at his coat sleeve.

"Mind your own business," the old fellow tartly exclaimed, then turned again to the telephone.

"Say, Umson, I just want to call you up to tell you that the tip you gave me on those stocks was a flivver."

Again the girl plucked at his coat. Waving her aside, the old man continued:

"I lost a couple hundred dollars and the first time I see you—"

"If you please, sir—"

It was the telephone girl, but the old man paid no attention.

"I am going to give you a piece of my mind. You are no good and—"

The harangue kept up for several minutes before the girl finally succeeded in arresting the man's attention.

"Well, whaddye want?" he finally stopped long enough to say.

"If you please, sir," the girl demurely returned, "that telephone you are talking through is an old one and it has been disconnected for a week."

PROFESSOR "IN BAD" AGAIN

Only Casual Remark Brought Him to a Realization of His Errand to the Doctor.

Professor Gigliamp dropped in at his friend the doctor's the other night. He was breathing heavily, and seemed to be in a great hurry.

"Ah, professor!" said the doctor. "Come in! Let me take your coat and hat. Been taking a sharp walk, after the day's work? How's the great book getting on—the monograph on 'Biological Researches Among the Neolithic Tribes of Northern Nigeria'?"

Once started on the topic nearest his heart, the professor dropped into an easy chair and talked for hours. A bottle of whisky was produced, and it was about midnight before the guest rose to leave.

"Well, good-night, professor," said the doctor. "Give my regards to all at home. They are all well, I suppose?"

"My goodness!" cried the professor, clapping his hand to his brow. "That reminds me! I knew I came to see you about something! My wife's nearly dying of ptomaine poisoning!"

TWO GERMAN ATTACKS REPULED BY FRENCH

(International News Service.)

Paris, June 14.—The Germans attacked at two points on the western front during the night, but were repulsed at both, the war office announced today.

The assaults were made along the Aisne river in the sectors of Bray, north of Craonne, and north of Rheims, also on the Verdun front.

National Banks Told To Subscribe Heavily

May Use 6 Per Cent. of Capital, Surplus and Deposits for Liberty Loan.

National banks are urged to take six per cent. of their capital, surplus and deposits in Liberty Loan bonds, according to telegrams received this morning by officials of local national banks from the federal regional reserve bank at Atlanta.

There had previously been some misunderstanding of this phase of the Liberty Loan and the telegrams are expected to boost the sale of the bonds to local banks considerably.

Cotton Consumption Report Is Bullish

(International News Service.)

Washington, June 14.—The census report issued today shows cotton, exclusive of linters, consumed during May, 615,171 running bales in 1917, compared with 575,566 in 1916, of which 350,993 bales was consumed in cotton growing states in 1917, and 324,492 in 1916. Linters consumed during May, 82,359 bales in 1917. Cotton held in consuming establishments on May 31, 1,899,084.

For Weak Women

In use for over 40 years! Thousands of voluntary letters from women, telling of the good Cardui has done them. This is the best proof of the value of Cardui. It proves that Cardui is a good medicine for women.

There are no harmful or habit-forming drugs in Cardui. It is composed only of mild, medicinal ingredients, with no bad after-effects.

TAKE

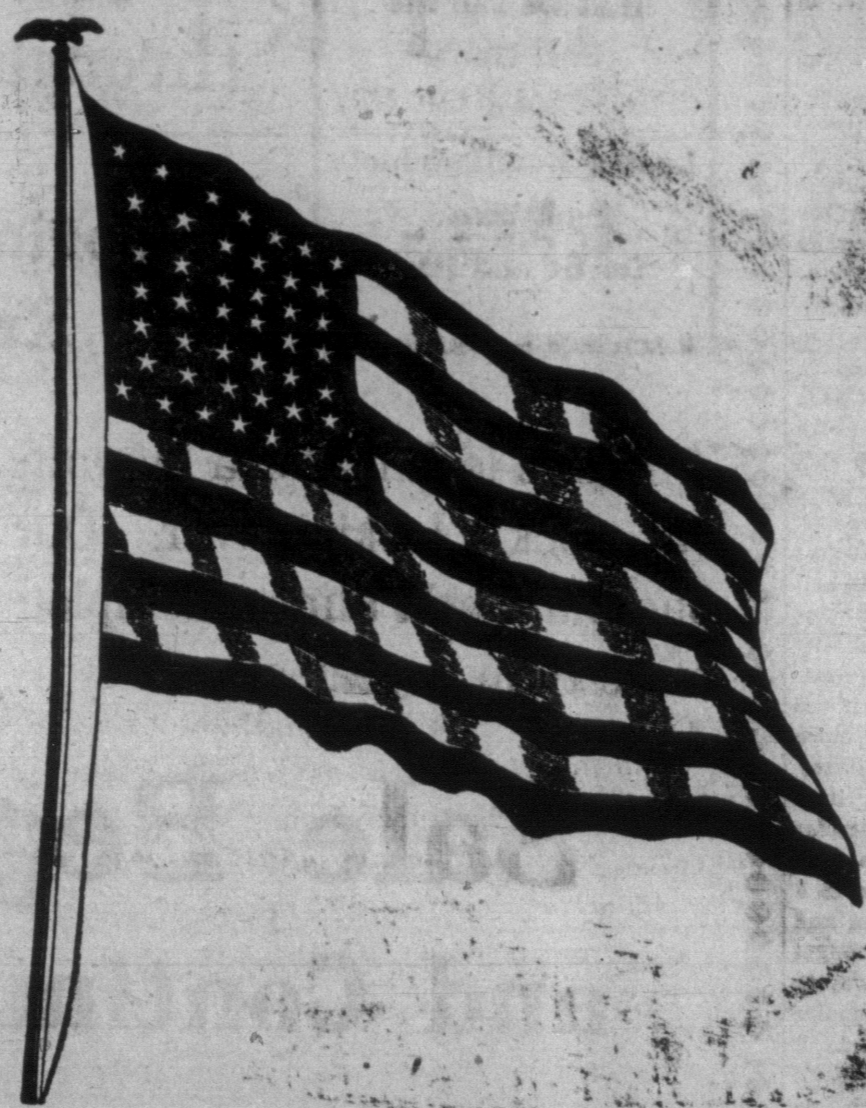

CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

You can rely on Cardui. Surely it will do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women! It should help.

"I was taken sick, seemed to be . . .," writes Mrs. Mary E. Vest, of Madison Heights, Va. "I got down so weak, could hardly walk . . . just staggered around. . . . I read of Cardui, and after taking one bottle, or before taking quite all, I felt much better. I took 3 or 4 bottles at that time, and was able to do my work. I take it in the spring when run-down. I had no appetite, and I commenced eating. It is the best tonic I ever saw." Try Cardui.

PRESIDENT EXPOSES GERMAN PROPOSALS

overrun Poland at their will. It cannot go further; it dare not go back. It wishes to close its bargain before it is too late and it has little left to offer for the pound of flesh it will demand.

Why Germany Wants Peace.

"The military masters under whom Germany is bleeding see very clearly to what point Fate has brought them. If they fall back or are forced back an inch, their power both abroad and at home will fall to pieces like a house of cards. It is their power at home they are thinking about now more than their power abroad. It is that power which is trembling under their very feet; and deep fear has entered their hearts. They have but one chance to perpetuate their military power or even their controlling political influence. If they can secure peace now with the immense advantages still in their hands which they have up to this point apparently gained, they will have justified themselves before the German people; they will have gained by force what they promised to gain by it; an immense expansion of German power, an immense enlargement of German industrial and commercial opportunities. Their prestige will be secure, and with their prestige their political power. If they fail, their people will thrust them aside; a government accountable to the people themselves will be set up in Germany as it has been in England, in the United States, in France, and in all the great countries of the modern time except Germany. If they succeed they are safe and Germany and the world are undone; if they fail Germany is saved and the world will be at peace. If they succeed, America will fall within the menace. We and all the rest of the world must remain armed, as they will remain, and must make ready for the next step in their aggression; if they fail, the world may unite for peace and Germany may be of the union.

The New Intrigue.

"Do you not now understand the new intrigue, the intrigue for peace, and why the masters of Germany do not hesitate to use any agency that promises to effect their purpose, the deceit of the nations? Their present particular aim is to deceive all those who throughout the world stand for the rights of peoples and the self-government of nations; for they see what immense strength the forces of justice and of liberalism are gathering out of this war. They are employing liberals in their enterprise. They are using men, in Germany and without, as their spokesmen whom they have hitherto despised and oppressed, using them for their own destruction—socialists, the leaders of labor, the thinkers they have hitherto sought to silence. Let them once succeed and these men, now their tools, will be ground to powder beneath the weight of the great military empire they will have set up; the revolutionists in Russia will but cut off from all succor or co-operation in western Europe and a counter revolution fostered and supported; Germany herself

PROCLAMATION OF RED CROSS WEEK.

Inasmuch as our thoughts as a nation are now turned in united purpose towards the performance to the utmost of the services and duties which we have assumed in the cause of justice and liberty.

Inasmuch as but a small proportion of our people can have the opportunity to serve upon the actual field of battle, but all men, women and children alike may serve and serve effectively by making it possible to care properly for those who do serve under arms at home and abroad.

And inasmuch as the American Red Cross is the official recognized agency for voluntary effort in behalf of the armed forces of the nation and for the administration of relief.

Now, therefore, by virtue of my authority as president of the United States and president of the American Red Cross, I, Woodrow Wilson, do hereby proclaim the week ending June 25, 1917, as Red Cross Week during which the people of the United States will be called upon to give generously and in a spirit of patriotic sacrifice for the support and maintenance of this work of national need.

WOODROW WILSON.

Washington, May 25, 1917.

Two Hundred Alien Enemies Arrested

Washington, June 14.—Two hundred alien enemies of the United States—Germans—have been arrested since the declaration of war, the department of justice announced today.

The arrests were made and the aliens conveyed to country places with as little ostentation as possible. Already a number of harmless aliens have been paroled by the government and are permitted to live at their homes and go about their business as usual, but the government is keeping an eye upon them. The department declines to make public details as to the number arrested in various cities or sections of the country.

will lose her chance of freedom; and all Europe will arm for the next, the final struggle.

Germany's Spokesmen Here.

"The sinister intrigue is being no less actively conducted in this country than in Russia and every country in Europe to which the agents and dupes of the imperial German government can get access. That government has many spokesmen here, in places high and low. They have learned discretion. They keep within the law. It is opinion they utter now, not sedition. They proclaim the liberal purposes of their masters; declare this a foreign war which can touch America with no danger to either her lands or her institutions; set England at the center of the stage and talk of her ambition to assert economic dominion throughout the world; appeal to our ancient tradition of isolation in the politics of the nations; and seek to undermine the government with false professions of loyalty to its principles.

But they will make no headway. The false betray themselves always in every accent. It is only friends and partisans of the German government whom we have already identified who utter these thinly disguised disloyalties. The facts are patent to all the world, and nowhere are they more plainly seen than in the United States, where we are accustomed to deal with facts and not with sophistries; and the great fact that stands out above all the rest is that this is a peoples' war, a war for freedom and justice and self-government amongst all the nations of the world, a war to make the world safe for the peoples who live upon it and have made it their own, the German people themselves included; and that with us rests the choice to break through all these hypocrisies and patent cheats and masks of brute force and help set the world free, or else stand aside and let it be dominated a long age through by sheer weight of arms and the arbitrary choices of self-constituted masters, by the nation which can maintain the biggest armies, and the most irresistible armaments—a power to which the world has afforded no parallel and in the face of which political freedom must, wither, and perish.

Warning to Obstructionists.

"For us there is but one choice. We have made it. Woe be to the man or group of men that seeks to stand in our way in this day of high resolution when ever principle we hold dearest is to be vindicated and made secure for the salvation of the nations. We are ready to plead at the bar of history, and our flag shall wear a new lustre. Once more we shall make good with our lives and fortunes the great faith to which we were born, and a new glory shall shine in the face of our people."

Locals Play Opening Game With Huntsville Team Today

The opening clash between the Y. M. C. A. and a picked team from Huntsville will be staged at the ball park this afternoon. The affray promises to rival in intensity that other one that has the Hindenburg line as the bone of contention, for both teams are out for victory, and the aggregations are unusually well matched. The game will be called at 4 o'clock. The same teams will meet again Friday afternoon and Saturday afternoon on the local lot.

The fans will find when they crowd into the ball park that it has been transformed into a real pastime arena, with new grandstand and other accessories.
